

Grande Prairie and District
Flying Club

imited
ERTA

This Advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board, or by the Government of the Province

ILLUSTRATED NEWS OF THE WEEK

A SPECIAL TRIBUNE FEATURE

THE BEST OF THE WEEK'S INTERESTING NEWS PICTURES

ICE PALACE DELIGHTS THE YOUNGSTERS IN QUEBEC

Here is a picture of the perfectly constructed ice palace at Quebec City, which was a centre of attraction during the International Convention of Snowshoers. Illuminated at night it is a beautiful sight and the youngsters in the city show keen delight in walking through the rooms and court-yard.

—Canadian Pacific Photo.

Charles Kingsford-Smith, Jr.

SON MOURNS ABSENCE OF FAMOUS FATHER

Australia's "favorite son" is cherishing Charles Kingsford-Smith, Jr., who spent his birthday at home in Sydney picking flowers, possibly in memory of his famous flying father, who is shown below with Mrs. Kingsford-Smith in one of the last photos of the couple taken before the famous five disappeared on a flight from England to Australia last year.

WHEN KING EDWARD VIII WAS A NAVAL CADET

On many occasions while the Prince of Wales was a naval cadet at Osborne College King George visited his son to encourage him in his studies and give him advice. Here the beloved King is seen with the Prince of Wales standing on the steps of the college during a visit.

BRITAIN'S NEW WONDER PLANE IN FLIGHT

Like a giant bird, this new Vickers-Wheeler long-range bomber glides through the air during a practice flight. Ordered for the Royal Air Force, this machine has many secrets, and it is the fastest, heaviest, and longest-ranged airplane in the world. The great wing span means more space for gasoline or freight. It has a retractable under-carriage, and a hatch for entry of the crew beneath the fuselage. The engine has special streamline cowling, and it is claimed that the wings could be riddled with bullets without collapsing.

DEAF MUTE DANCER

Although a deaf mute since birth, Charlotte Lamberton has won fame on Broadway as a dancer and musical comedy beauty. Vibrations of the music, as transmitted through the floor to her feet, give her the rhythm of the music.

KING ENJOYS GOLF

The new monarch of the British Empire is a keen student of golf and annually enters prominent golf tournaments in the British Isles and France. When this picture was taken, His Majesty, then the Prince of Wales, was playing against Lady Astor in the semi-final of the Parliamentary Golf handicap in Surrey.

SENATE SPEAKER

Hon. Walter E. Foster, former Prime Minister of New Brunswick, who has been appointed Speaker of the Senate. He entered the government of Premier King as Secretary of State in 1925, but was defeated in the general election of that year. He was summoned to the Senate in 1928.

CUT ELECTION COSTS

Mr. Harry Butcher, former M.P. for East Mountain, Saskatchewan, who has been commissioned by the Dominion government to investigate the problem of how to cut election costs to the advantage of the candidates and the Canadian treasury. Mr. Butcher will go to the Mother Country to study the system in operation there.

Virginia Bruce and daughter

BENEFICIARIES IN GILBERT WILL

Under the terms of the will left by the late John Gilbert, star of the silent screen, Virginia Bruce, his fourth wife, and their daughter, Susan Ann, receive $150,000 from the Gilbert estate.

FOREIGN MINISTER?

M. Flandin, prominent French Deputy, who is mentioned as a likely prospect for the post of Foreign Minister in the new French government.

Nazi neo-paganism was denounced in a pastoral letter read from the pulpit of every Roman Catholic church in Germany.

The immigration department was without information on the details of the plan to transfer 100,000 Jews from Germany, chiefly to Palestine, but also to other countries which had no anti-Semitic laws.

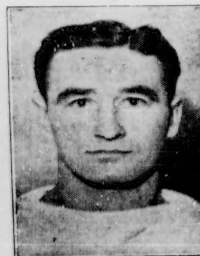

Mrs. Desires Werder

William Werder

THEY SWAPPED MATES

Cupid played a strange trick in the case of Mr. and Mrs. William Werder. Love, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burnett, residents of the same apartment in Redwood City, Cal. Mrs. Werder found herself in love with Burnett, and Mrs. Burnett found romance with Werder, so the two wives went to Reno together, got their divorces, and are now going to marry their true loves.

BILL THOMSON

Right wing star with the Canadian Olympic hockey team, has been a member of the Port Arthur Bear Cats since 1932. Shifty and elusive, Bill is hard to stop on solo rushes and is one of the fastest skaters on the Olympic squad.

HOCKEY EXPERTS TALK "SHOP"

Photographed when they attended the luncheon given by the British Ice Hockey Association to the United States Olympic hockey team when the latter arrived in London, J. Foster, left, and R. H. Nicklin, right, talk about hockey. These two coaches, who look after Richmond and other hockey teams in England, hail from Ontario, and are well known in senior O. H. A. circles.

STILL HOVERING OVER — Fitzpatrick in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch

WHICH CAME FIRST - HEN OR EGG?

—White, in the Tampa Tribune.

Gleanings of Interest To the Women Folks

By THE GLEANER

Mrs. Jean entertained a few friends on Monday evening.

Mrs. Bob Sharpe of Edmonton is Mrs. Buster Murphy's guest.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Buster Murphy entertained in honor of her guest, Mrs. Bob Sharpe.

Mrs. White's group of the C. G. I. T. had a party at their leaders' home on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Morrison of Deloit are in town for the hospital and are staying with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy and Lady, of Pouce Coupe, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Shields this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mackay and Lady and Mr. Lempe of Tepee Creek dined at Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fitzpatrick's on Friday last.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church held their regular meeting on Wednesday at the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Fisher.

The Young Peoples Three-Table Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. B. H. Harris on Monday evening, when Miss Dorothy Madock was hostess.

Honors went to Miss Rita Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moore of Goodwin are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Powrie this week. Mrs. Powrie entertained on Wednesday evening in honor of her guests.

Miss Gwen Gant entertained a few of her friends on Monday evening, a couple of tables of bridge being formed. After a delectable lunch the guests presented Miss Marion Morrison with the prize.

The North and Two-Table Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. W. A. of Christ Church on Wednesday evening, when the honors went to Mrs. W. A. Walker, first and second respectively.

On Saturday afternoon the Girls' W. A. of Christ Church are holding a Valentine tea in the Speke Hall, from 3 o'clock. They invite your patronage.

OUR GANG

Wednesday evening, after intermission of Japan and a lecture thereon by the Rev. B. J. Pierce, his Boys' League set to work enthusiastically, some of them completing the hand boards they are making.

DATE CHANGED

The date of the musical entertainment by choir and music pupils of St. Joseph's School is changed from February 14 to February 19. It will be held at 8 o'clock, at the separate school.

DISCUSS FINANCE CAMPAIGN

A business meeting to discuss their finance campaign was held by Mrs. Mel Fowler's C. G. I. T. group at her home on Tuesday evening. The girls are selling stents to raise funds to promote C. G. I. T. in Canada.

C.W.L. TEA AND SALE OF HOME COOKING

There will be a C. W. L. tea and sale of home cooking on Saturday, February 22. Place to be announced later.

A.Y.P.A. TELEPHONE BRIDGE PARTIES ENJOYED

The telephone bridge parties put on by the A. Y. P. A. last Thursday evening at the home of Mesdames Evans, Grant, Pierce and Raymond were most successful and enjoyable affairs, the prize winners being Mrs. Buster Murphy and Mrs. Lewis.

LEAP AT THIS CHANCE

Critics—young and old, single, shivered, or divorced—come one, come all to the Leap Year dance sponsored by the C. G. I. T. and have a chance, first or second, for a matrimonial prize. Chalk up the date, ladies, February 28, and do not forget it at the Elks Hall.

Come along, beautiful bachelors—if you don't get the girl you want you'll get a lesson in proposing.

And more attractions are offered in the form of a Floor Show, and novelty stunts.

"I'll be seen ya there!"

TEACHING STAFF HOLD THEIR FOURTH PARTY

The teaching staff of the High and Montrose Schools held their fourth party in the music room on Monday evening.

Mr. Melness, who was in charge of the educational part of the program, discussed the proposed School Act, Charades and competitive games were played.

Miss Dwyer, being responsible for the "acts," rose to the occasion ably. And thus ended another grand and enjoyable time.

"TIME MARCHES BACKWARDS"

After the usual business meeting of the Junior C. W. L. at the Academy on Friday evening the Academy Girls, under the leadership of their captain, Nellie O'Connell, launched the Junior Study Club on its first journey back through the ages, to living to modern times.

In a thoroughly up-to-date manner, through a sham rally, "Time Marches On" was initiated to perfection, only it was a case of "Time Marches Backwards," for the news and the scenes depicted were of the past.

Seeing her son, St. Constantine, to put an end to the sacrifice of Christendom, she returned to the Holy Land to look for the Cross. Her finding of the three crosses and the miraculous healing of the sick young Helene when laid on the Cross of Christ were all faithfully dramatized by these young girls, who had written the dialogues themselves.

An extra sumptuous lunch was served after the "radio" program.

The next meeting L. being looked forward to eagerly, when Shirley Carter's group will "pitch in" with Columbus and Queen Isabel.

OTHER PEOPLE'S NEW YEARS

Here is an extract I received from Khamlatia, a tiny hill station situated on the Ghata mountains between Bombay and Poona.

"We explored as far as the jungle below the hotel, but we saw nothing, not even a jackal or a jackal's track. We can hear the latter at night. Our walks on the hills give us marvelous panoramic views. There are lovely creepers growing by the waterfalls, also the flowers that surround the sacred, libicous. We came across masses of wild sunflowers growing in the river beds."

"We had three visitors the other afternoon. Two young boys walked into the sitting room, and a wild monkey in the trees nearby gave us its salutation."

"This was written later, on their return to Bombay."

"New Year's Day was quite hectic."

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world."

THE PERFECT QUEST

By Rose M. Heaton

She answered, by return of post. The invitation of her host.

She caught the train she said she would.

And changed at junctions as she should.

She brought a small and lightish box. And keys belonging to the locks.

Food rich and rare she did not bow. But ate the boiled or scrambled eggs.

When offered lukewarm tea she drank it. And did not crave an extra blanket.

Nor extra pillows for her head; She seemed to like the spare-room bed.

She brought her own self-filling pen. And always wrote in the spare room.

She left her little things behind. But stories new and gossip kind.

THE INVISIBLE MAN

Camera do depict what even the human eye cannot see, yet there is a man the camera cannot see. Here is a news item from Prague:

"A man, known as 'The Invisible Man,' was arrested at Ostrava, Moravia, was photographed by the police. The photo, when developed, showed a man in a suit, with the same result. Then the police took six more photographs—all blank. The man offered to reveal the secret of his invisibility if released, but the police refused."

FOLLOWING THE LEADER

Smith: "How do you and your wife manager to get along so well together?"

Jones: "Oh, I let her go her way and she makes me go home."

PEACE

It almost seems as if world peace will be achieved when the Christian nations agree to protect one another from one another.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR TOWNFOLK?

The Tribune recently ran a contributed list of questions under the heading "Do You Know Your Townfolk?" The names answering the first week's questions are:

1. Mr. Spiller; 2. Mr. Sharpe; 3. Dr. Akin; 4. Mr. Croken; 5. Mr. Card; 6. Mr. Ford; 7. Mr. Bean; 8. Mr. Ward; 9. Mr. Swallow; 10. Dr. Curless; 11. Mr. Fawcett; 12. Mr. Nelson; 13. Mr. Vagi; 14. Mr. Fae; 15. Mr. Crumby; 16. Mr. Fawcett; 17. Mr. Curless; 18. Mr. Tanner; 19. Dr. Bach; 20. Mr. Buck; 21. Mr. Bell; 22. Mr. Orr; 23. Mr. Fawcett; 24. Mr. Curless; 25. Mr. Newton; 26. Dr. Bell; 27. Mr. Lynne; 28. Mr. Fawcett; 29. Mr. Curless; 30. Mr. Lanctot.

The second week: 1. Mr. Storm; 2. Mr. Fox; 3. Mr. Weir; 4. Mr. Alt; 5. Mr. Charter; 6. Mr. Hillman; 7. Mr. Conning; 8. Mr. Hassard; 9. Mr. Walker; 10. Mr. Ricks; 11. Burrows and Adams; 12. Messrs. Harris, Pierce and Hook.

TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING OF G. P. PRESBYTERIAL

The annual meeting of the Grande Prairie Presbyterian Church was held in St. Paul's United Church on Wednesday, February 26. Afternoon session at 2:30, evening at 7:30. Rev. J. G. Goddard will be the guest speaker.

The annual journey of the earth around the sun covers approximately 584,600,000 miles.

What One Girl Wore:

By Betty Bowles

The irresistible impulse we all have at this time of the year to get into winter clothes and to change from the lighter colors we're pretty tired of to and frocks of Spring-like character has to be met with a little good judgment. The weather-man being as fickle as he is, we all know that at this time of the year he's likely to be more temperamental than ever.

One day he comes along with such balmy breezes that we are sure that Spring is within us, and that we need not wait for a blizzard. So what to do?

Well, this week we are illustrating a little trend suit that answers all the questions. In a lovely shade of light blue, it's just gay and Spring-like enough to brighten up the in-between season wardrobe. And because of its light weight, it's perfect for wear under a sweater for cool for the still chilly days.

It was written later, on their return to Bombay.

"New Year's Day was quite hectic."

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world."

THE PERFECT QUEST

By Rose M. Heaton

She answered, by return of post. The invitation of her host.

She caught the train she said she would.

And changed at junctions as she should.

She brought a small and lightish box. And keys belonging to the locks.

Food rich and rare she did not bow. But ate the boiled or scrambled eggs.

When offered lukewarm tea she drank it. And did not crave an extra blanket.

Nor extra pillows for her head; She seemed to like the spare-room bed.

She brought her own self-filling pen. And always wrote in the spare room.

She left her little things behind. But stories new and gossip kind.

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world."

THE PERFECT QUEST

By Rose M. Heaton

She answered, by return of post. The invitation of her host.

She caught the train she said she would.

And changed at junctions as she should.

She brought a small and lightish box. And keys belonging to the locks.

Food rich and rare she did not bow. But ate the boiled or scrambled eggs.

When offered lukewarm tea she drank it. And did not crave an extra blanket.

Nor extra pillows for her head; She seemed to like the spare-room bed.

She brought her own self-filling pen. And always wrote in the spare room.

She left her little things behind. But stories new and gossip kind.

THE INVISIBLE MAN

Camera do depict what even the human eye cannot see, yet there is a man the camera cannot see. Here is a news item from Prague:

"A man, known as 'The Invisible Man,' was arrested at Ostrava, Moravia, was photographed by the police. The photo, when developed, showed a man in a suit, with the same result. Then the police took six more photographs—all blank. The man offered to reveal the secret of his invisibility if released, but the police refused."

FOLLOWING THE LEADER

Smith: "How do you and your wife manager to get along so well together?"

Jones: "Oh, I let her go her way and she makes me go home."

PEACE

It almost seems as if world peace will be achieved when the Christian nations agree to protect one another from one another.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR TOWNFOLK?

The Tribune recently ran a contributed list of questions under the heading "Do You Know Your Townfolk?" The names answering the first week's questions are:

1. Mr. Spiller; 2. Mr. Sharpe; 3. Dr. Akin; 4. Mr. Croken; 5. Mr. Card; 6. Mr. Ford; 7. Mr. Bean; 8. Mr. Ward; 9. Mr. Swallow; 10. Dr. Curless; 11. Mr. Fawcett; 12. Mr. Nelson; 13. Mr. Vagi; 14. Mr. Fae; 15. Mr. Crumby; 16. Mr. Fawcett; 17. Mr. Curless; 18. Mr. Tanner; 19. Dr. Bach; 20. Mr. Buck; 21. Mr. Bell; 22. Mr. Orr; 23. Mr. Fawcett; 24. Mr. Curless; 25. Mr. Newton; 26. Dr. Bell; 27. Mr. Lynne; 28. Mr. Fawcett; 29. Mr. Curless; 30. Mr. Lanctot.

The second week: 1. Mr. Storm; 2. Mr. Fox; 3. Mr. Weir; 4. Mr. Alt; 5. Mr. Charter; 6. Mr. Hillman; 7. Mr. Conning; 8. Mr. Hassard; 9. Mr. Walker; 10. Mr. Ricks; 11. Burrows and Adams; 12. Messrs. Harris, Pierce and Hook.

TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING OF G. P. PRESBYTERIAL

The annual meeting of the Grande Prairie Presbyterian Church was held in St. Paul's United Church on Wednesday, February 26. Afternoon session at 2:30, evening at 7:30. Rev. J. G. Goddard will be the guest speaker.

The annual journey of the earth around the sun covers approximately 584,600,000 miles.

What One Girl Wore:

By Betty Bowles

The irresistible impulse we all have at this time of the year to get into winter clothes and to change from the lighter colors we're pretty tired of to and frocks of Spring-like character has to be met with a little good judgment. The weather-man being as fickle as he is, we all know that at this time of the year he's likely to be more temperamental than ever.

One day he comes along with such balmy breezes that we are sure that Spring is within us, and that we need not wait for a blizzard. So what to do?

Well, this week we are illustrating a little trend suit that answers all the questions. In a lovely shade of light blue, it's just gay and Spring-like enough to brighten up the in-between season wardrobe. And because of its light weight, it's perfect for wear under a sweater for cool for the still chilly days.

It was written later, on their return to Bombay.

"New Year's Day was quite hectic."

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world."

THE PERFECT QUEST

By Rose M. Heaton

She answered, by return of post. The invitation of her host.

She caught the train she said she would.

And changed at junctions as she should.

She brought a small and lightish box. And keys belonging to the locks.

Food rich and rare she did not bow. But ate the boiled or scrambled eggs.

When offered lukewarm tea she drank it. And did not crave an extra blanket.

Nor extra pillows for her head; She seemed to like the spare-room bed.

She brought her own self-filling pen. And always wrote in the spare room.

She left her little things behind. But stories new and gossip kind.

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world."

THE PERFECT QUEST

By Rose M. Heaton

She answered, by return of post. The invitation of her host.

She caught the train she said she would.

And changed at junctions as she should.

She brought a small and lightish box. And keys belonging to the locks.

Food rich and rare she did not bow. But ate the boiled or scrambled eggs.

When offered lukewarm tea she drank it. And did not crave an extra blanket.

Nor extra pillows for her head; She seemed to like the spare-room bed.

She brought her own self-filling pen. And always wrote in the spare room.

She left her little things behind. But stories new and gossip kind.

THE INVISIBLE MAN

Camera do depict what even the human eye cannot see, yet there is a man the camera cannot see. Here is a news item from Prague:

"A man, known as 'The Invisible Man,' was arrested at Ostrava, Moravia, was photographed by the police. The photo, when developed, showed a man in a suit, with the same result. Then the police took six more photographs—all blank. The man offered to reveal the secret of his invisibility if released, but the police refused."

FOLLOWING THE LEADER

Smith: "How do you and your wife manager to get along so well together?"

Jones: "Oh, I let her go her way and she makes me go home."

PEACE

It almost seems as if world peace will be achieved when the Christian nations agree to protect one another from one another.

DO YOU KNOW YOUR TOWNFOLK?

The Tribune recently ran a contributed list of questions under the heading "Do You Know Your Townfolk?" The names answering the first week's questions are:

1. Mr. Spiller; 2. Mr. Sharpe; 3. Dr. Akin; 4. Mr. Croken; 5. Mr. Card; 6. Mr. Ford; 7. Mr. Bean; 8. Mr. Ward; 9. Mr. Swallow; 10. Dr. Curless; 11. Mr. Fawcett; 12. Mr. Nelson; 13. Mr. Vagi; 14. Mr. Fae; 15. Mr. Crumby; 16. Mr. Fawcett; 17. Mr. Curless; 18. Mr. Tanner; 19. Dr. Bach; 20. Mr. Buck; 21. Mr. Bell; 22. Mr. Orr; 23. Mr. Fawcett; 24. Mr. Curless; 25. Mr. Newton; 26. Dr. Bell; 27. Mr. Lynne; 28. Mr. Fawcett; 29. Mr. Curless; 30. Mr. Lanctot.

The second week: 1. Mr. Storm; 2. Mr. Fox; 3. Mr. Weir; 4. Mr. Alt; 5. Mr. Charter; 6. Mr. Hillman; 7. Mr. Conning; 8. Mr. Hassard; 9. Mr. Walker; 10. Mr. Ricks; 11. Burrows and Adams; 12. Messrs. Harris, Pierce and Hook.

TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING OF G. P. PRESBYTERIAL

The annual meeting of the Grande Prairie Presbyterian Church was held in St. Paul's United Church on Wednesday, February 26. Afternoon session at 2:30, evening at 7:30. Rev. J. G. Goddard will be the guest speaker.

The annual journey of the earth around the sun covers approximately 584,600,000 miles.

What One Girl Wore:

By Betty Bowles

The irresistible impulse we all have at this time of the year to get into winter clothes and to change from the lighter colors we're pretty tired of to and frocks of Spring-like character has to be met with a little good judgment. The weather-man being as fickle as he is, we all know that at this time of the year he's likely to be more temperamental than ever.

One day he comes along with such balmy breezes that we are sure that Spring is within us, and that we need not wait for a blizzard. So what to do?

Well, this week we are illustrating a little trend suit that answers all the questions. In a lovely shade of light blue, it's just gay and Spring-like enough to brighten up the in-between season wardrobe. And because of its light weight, it's perfect for wear under a sweater for cool for the still chilly days.

It was written later, on their return to Bombay.

"New Year's Day was quite hectic."

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world."

THE PERFECT QUEST

By Rose M. Heaton

She answered, by return of post. The invitation of her host.

She caught the train she said she would.

And changed at junctions as she should.

She brought a small and lightish box. And keys belonging to the locks.

Food rich and rare she did not bow. But ate the boiled or scrambled eggs.

When offered lukewarm tea she drank it. And did not crave an extra blanket.

Nor extra pillows for her head; She seemed to like the spare-room bed.

She brought her own self-filling pen. And always wrote in the spare room.

She left her little things behind. But stories new and gossip kind.

At 8:30 a.m. a dealer arrived with a live turkey and a live goose. The goose, like the hen (cuckoo), so he dropped it. Then McNab (a tiny Cairn pup) went for the goose—but changed his mind. Then the goose fought the turkey and nearly won its neck. So we had the goose to make him let go—and kept him in my bathroom while the turkey was being sent into the next world

